

Virtual Offices

Although you have an address with us, you don't need a permanent space in an office. We can organize all your post and telephone forwarding and messaging services according to your requirements. With our packages you can also have the use of our meeting and seminar rooms or book them separately. Our meeting and seminar rooms have their own telephone and Internet connections with access to a print scan and color copy center, which makes them ideal as short-term work and meeting spaces. A secure mobile caddy for your personal documents, archiving and office materials can also be rented separately. General office services, extra archive space and temporary parking within the building is also available.
